THE ORDINANCE OF 1787.—The sixth article turned to their homes on Saturday. THE ORDINANCE OF 1767—The sixth article of this document, which contains the restriction on alavery and the provision for the restriction on alavery and the provision for the restrict of the into consideration the adoption of measures the provision which have been carried on in the language of the celebrated measure have come to suppose that it was mainly a declaration against the agread of elavery. In fact it was mainly and compensation of the celebrated measure have come to suppose that it was mainly a declaration against the agread of elavery. In fact it was most comprehensive body of principles applied by the Continental Congress to the government of the Territories, and was subsequently made the model on which Congress, under the Constitution of the United States, proceeded to establish Territorial governments over the districts coded by the States.

From some statements made by Mr. Madion in the 38th number of the Pederalist, it appears that he arguaded the regulations of the critical section is the the regulations of the critical section in the states.

Any man, with as much pride of character slimy toad in his bosom, next to the skin than the consciousness of having written disrespectful anonymous letter.

An army correspondent of the New York Tribune, himself an abolitionist, wrote as follows from the midst of Gen. McClellan recent splendid movements, while they were a vet incomplete:

We march now through the White Oak Swamp to change, in twelva hours' time, the hase of great army—doomed where it was, and havin now bat little grace of delay accorded to it by a ctive and brave eaemy, aumarous enough to edircla us at aay point and to cannumber us at al The movament is bold, soldier like, and hrillian but emiaently hazardoas. It is made by the light of the buraing of every one of the bridgas whic we have so painfully throws over the Clarka homluy, and within hearing of the destruction y our owa hands, of the railroad which gave upplies and was to secure us retreat. The more ment will probably be successful, though its trail will be bloofy. The world will regard it as a masterly stroke of genius. The army will so re-gard it, and will feel for its commander the admiration and gratitude that saviors of men ever sakiadlu in loyal hearts. But the brilliancy of this movement will not for an instant dazzle the eyes of the wrooged and wrathful men of the army of the Potomec, nor will it dazzle the sight of the aggry prople so as or a momant to obscure their perception of the rime against the nation, which has made this shanga of basa and front impariously accessary. This crime is the refusal to reinforce McCladan. don't care about the question-which legislators soldiars, and politicinus have debated—of this General's fitness to command. The York and James river Peninsula was not the place for that this Psaiasula or oa the Potomac. I have blows, bat not a word, for the untimely casulet, la or out of administrativa office, who, under the roar of rebsl cannon, sweeping our ranks with shot and shell, meets ilis damad for aid to this army with a chronological measure of delaye at Fort Monree, at Yorktowa, at Willismsburg, at Savea

Pines.

I don't cara whether there were delays or ac delays—whether they were McClellan's delays, the Quartermaster Gaueral's delays, or the dolays if the elements! No man, no party, no lateress hall, with my assent or my silence, he parmitte o mix up with the sacrnd right of as culmamber d Americae a my to demand help from their country on and to premptly receive it, collateral questions of fitness, of vigor, of fidelity in com-nanders. When loyal New York regiments, liftnd from their feet by the fire of rabel brigades, cry out of their wounds and death for help; when the choicest of New England and Michigan and Penasylvania troops, outambered is froat and or both flaks by whole divisions of the snamy, befor relaforcements, 1 any that the blackest crim for relaforcements, I say that the blackeet crime that Power can comoit is to stalk upon the field of pe il and say: "Soldiers, I have no faith in your commander! Let your marry rdem proceed!" And so says this army of the Potomac. And it registers to-night vows of vangeance as it marches in the dark from a position which their diminished aumhers disabled them from holding, but which is coasecrated to them forever by their enforcements their labors, and their ware to The offerings, their lebors, and their wroags. The oliticisms and statesmea who left us here to hu utnumbered and cut off from our supplies and tha possibility of retrast are doomed men.

It will not do to put such men on "guard, The fact that they are the choice of secession eympathizers is evidence sufficient to induce every tinly loyal man to reject them. There can be no difficulty in determining this question. There it no man in Kentucky so ignorant of the great issues which now absorb all others, as to be deceived. He desires us to publish the Gallatin, Tannassee, and they strived there on following card from Colonel Sword, Assistant Thursday last, making the match in a single Quartermaster General at this port: day. The regiment expects to receive orders to go Into East Tennesses soon. This regiment, as our readers are aware, is commanded by our gallant fellow townsman Celonel W. P. Boone, than whom there are few batter officers in the service. He is beloved both by his officers and his men. He understands his duty perfectly, and nover fails to accomplish it. The health of the regiment is said to be excellent. There is no doubt but that said to he excellent. There is no doubt but that the gallant Twenty-eighth will give a good account of themselves wherever they may be sent.

THE RIGHT MAN IN THE RIGHT PLACE -- We learn that durlog the excitement at Baltimore, nver the news of the hard fighting by the army of the Potomsc, a prominent secessionist of Baltlmore deliberately wrote down, in order to give it an air of credibility, that Gaueral McClellan was so hadly whipped by the rebels that he fled for refuge on hoard of one of the gnnhoats, and from the gunboat sent to General Lee to know on what terms the loyal army could be parmitted to capitalate. The mendacious anthor of this rebel lis, after writing it down, went from one rasdiog room in Baltimore to another, and read ont this statement. k los of Mr. Howard, below the Falls, on the Without designing, In any way, or to any extent, to disparage the claims of other candidates that have been presented through our colnmns, we deem it a dnty to ourselves and an act nf justice to our young friend Thomas A. Morgan to say that few can present as high qualifications r the office of Marshal of the Louisville Chancary Court as he does. Modest and unassuming In manner and character, nnffinchingly loyal, honestly and undoubtedly true to his Govnrnment and country, uncorruptible in integrity, and of ample exparience, no one could fairly or properly question that the duties of the office would he falthfully discharged hy him. From such a man it would he unkind to withhold this tribute, and we cheerfully pay it. HENRY'S PATENT REPEATING RIFLE,-Mr. W. C. Stanton, the agent for the manufacturers, advertises the good qualities of this new and powarful weapon, and we can endorsa all he says of its performance from our actual observation. We in search of the assaesins. particularly commend it to army uses as the most effective arm for picket and vidette duty and to all our citizens ln secluded places as a protection against guerllla attacks and robheries. A man armed with one of these rifles can load and discharge one shot every second, so that he is equal to a company avery minnte, a ragiment every ten minutes, a brigade every half hour, and a division every honr. In the hands of tharp-shooteralt will prove a terrible engine of destruction. Ws advise all curious in the construction of rifles to examine this glorious improvement. A despatch received late last evening from Adjutant-General Finnell, states that Kentucky will be called upon for five new regiments of infentry, and the proclamation will be issued today. We shall have but little occasion to urge the loyal people of the State to give active aid to thia work, for there is spirit up throughout the Commonwealth which says this rehellion must and shall be crushed with all possible speed.

BOMBARDMENT OF VICKSBURG. Things up Yazoo River—Burning of three Gunboats—Blockade of the Yazoo—The Arkansas—Guerillas at Trenton, Arkansas. An extra from the Memphis Union Appeal, issned lest Thursday, says the rem Monarch arrived from Vicksburg that day and brings the following startling news, detalled by Capt. Geo. E. Curry, an eye-witness of the whole on Commodore Porter's flag ship Victoris, at Vicksburg:

On Thorsday previous the bembardment of Vicksburg was commenced by Commodore Perter's morter fleet et about light in the morning. The shells were directed against the appear fort below the town, which mounted eight gams. The bombardment continued on that fort-all day with-ont result.

On Friday morning the firing was opened; in the afternoon Porter signalized to shell the town Itself, which was done with deliberation and great accuracy. The effect of the shell could not be well discerned from the Octorea, then anchored in the stream about two miles below the lown. The shells could all be seen to hurst, but the effect of the bursting was hidden by the buildings in of the bursting was hidden by the buildings in front. This conlinued ill about four, when the fleet was signalled to cease firing, which it did. The hatterles on shore replied very lightly and at The hatterles on shore replied very lightly and at long and Irregular intervals, firing very insccurately. About half an hour after the cessation of this bombardment the water hattery opened on the mortars, which replied till the battery ceased firing. During the whole time the Octorora fired ten shot from her one hundred pound rifie, almost every one of which was directed with surprising accuracy, till the gun heated, when it began to throw high, and needed depression

When the firing ceased et 4 P. M. the Captelns of divisions were signalled to report on flag-ship,

It appears that an order osme from Com. Farragut, whose fleet was then five miles below the town in the bend, to again shell the town at 4 o'clock next morning (Saturday), when a portion of his fleet would run pest the rebel batterles. This order was obeyed, and again the sky wes shaken by the bursting of bombs end the explosion of morlars. At about 5 o'clock that morning, set he amy was shiping farragut's fleet came up. as the snn was shining, Farragut's fleet came np, and eight of them passed the hatterles, ponring broadsides into the town and hetteries. These sight vessels consisted of three men-of-war, two sloops of-war, and three gunboats. During this derieg passage the rebel hatteries ponred an iron hall on the fleet, accreely damaging any of the fleet and disabling none.

We heve identified ourselves with the cause of the people even when no binding sanction had ever been given by them to the policy pursued, believing in our immost heart that the native common sense of this country would finully assert its enpremacy, end restore things to their accustomed profitable and tranquil channels. As it is, we have nothing to sey to, or of, those who still cling to the bellef that this abominable domestic war will lead to a newer or better or domestic war will lead to a newer or better or pronder future for the South. The end of the conflict, in our opinion, is rot distant, and, like others, we can infford to weit its dencuement;

Powell denounced the bill as unconstitutional; reducing the Stetes to Provinces, tending to disminish the country is tolerably quiet just now. Major McKee, commanding the post at Marshall, our country seat, with a detachment of troops (Missouri State milital), has issued a proclamation calling on all disluyal persons to come forward, take the oath, and give bond with approved security" (secesh) for future good behavior, under pain of prompt arrest. He says in his edict that nil secesh thik will be considered "siding and abetting." Naarly all the secesh in our neighborhood have gone up and "took a nibble nt the oats," as the hoys here call the process (i. e. taking the oath), and have given bond in sums ranging from $1,000 to $7,000, according to wealth, tofin-nce, extent of co operation with the rebellion, &c.

when the firing ceased et 4 P. M. the Capteins of divisions were signalled to report on flag-ship, where an order was issued to open fire with the entire fleet upon the town at 8 o'clock thet night. At 8 o'clock, therefore, the entire mortar fleet vomited a very rein of shells npon the devoted city, the round missiles seeming to be eager first to atrike, and the last fired often ontstripping its predecessor. This terrible fire continued about one hour, when an order was issued to cease firing.

The reservative an order owne from Comp. Furnished. and no fears are now entertained of flank move-ments in that direction. By noon to-day Gen. McClellan expected to have his position so fortifi d as to be uble to bid defiance to the enemy in any shape they might ohoose to come. General Casey has arrived en ronte for Washington.

[Special to the Tribune.] WASHINGTON, July 7. The Treasury note bill agreed to by the conference committee and pessed by the Senate is a compromise between the two Houses. Thirty-five million dollars are to be issued in small notes, upon the fighting of their troops. They declare that it is an utter impossibility for the Union ermy to take Richmond either hy land or water by land on account of the number of troops, and by water on account of the number of troops, and hy water on account of the defences of James river. Of the latter, at Darling there is only one. Buildes this fort, three iron batteries have also been erected, mounted with guns and casemated for the protection of the gnoners.

There are also two submerged iron bettories, tach one containing five tans of nowder convect.

(ach one containing five tons of powder, connected with the iron land hatteries by wires, and so arranged es to exploie at any desired natant. Indians have taken all the stage steck from three or four stations east of Rocky Ridge—32 head in all. They killed two emigrants and took their stock. They also took 140 horses from Californians at Lee Springs. War with the Cheyennes, Snskee, end two or three bands of Sioux, appears inevitable. There are only five huedred troops on the whole line—not enough for its protection.

A New Religious Movement. - The Eoglish journals are discussing a movement which origi-nated, we believe, in a letter to one of the daily newspapers of London to nbolish sermons, or, more atricity, to make it understood that the conrregation assumbles on Sunday for singing end prayer only, and that, this part of the services completed, there shall be e pause, during which those who do not wish to hear the sermon may those who do not wish to hear the refined hay retire. This proposition is meeting with much attention and spolause, and that in the most respectable of the English weekly journals.

They complain that the Episcopal Liturgy is itself long enough; and that a sermon of an liqure duration superedded to this is more than week and exhausted human neture can bear. They add that a present the drad of the sermon keeps

FOLL CONFIRMATION OF MCCLELLAN'S VIO FOLL CONFIRMATION OF MCCLELLAN'S VIO TORY ON MONDAY—The Greatest and Bloodiest Battle of the War—Coefirmation of the welcome tidings of Gen. McClellan's defeat of the rebels, on Monday last, in the severest britle of the war, came to ns yesierday from the rebels themselves. This raised many a drooping spirit and relieved many an aoxious heart. It eppears by the Richmond Examiner of Wolnesday that the divisions which attacked Gen. McClellan on Monday morning Inst were those of Hill and Longstreet, end that they were more than helf destroyed. that they were more than helf destroyed. Ac-cording to the rebellournal, they drove our troops a mile and e half, when our men made a stand, and repelling the enemy with terrible slaughter, Hill and Longstreet retreated "amid the vocifer-ous cheers of the Yankees."

There are several points ebout this acknowledgeder future for libs and der future for libs and der future for libs and derivative cannot so petionly contemplate the inexasable indifference of those of the population here who, having everything to lose, reinse either to put forth n head for their own safety or for the public protection. If other and severe reflictions than may yet experienced by this population be in store for them, we shall be comparatively heppy in the conscioneness that the reproach attaches not to us or one endeavors. We have honealty labored to avert them, and upon others let the responsibility of our failure fall.

The battle was renewed the next day with renewed success to the Union arms. Since then, as the telegraph Informs ut, there was no more fighting down to half past five on Thursday night. From this we judge that the divisions of Longstreet and Hall, so terribly cut to pieces in Monday's battle, and those of Jackson, Huger, and Magruder were their only remaining effective corps. These heing, according to their own admission, more than half destroyed, it can easily he lungined why they did not renew tha fight effect Tuesday.
